Soon after, Andrew Stone, Esq. her Majestys treasurer and receiver-general, paid to Robert Dingley, Esq. (treasurer to the Magdalen charity) 300. as her Majestys royal gift and bounty towards building a new Magdalen house. The Dauphiness of France having died at Versailles on the 13th of March, bequeathed several religious jewels to the Queen. Their Majesties were extremely concerned to hear that the King of Denmark was taken ill of a scarlet fever; and, notwithstanding it was deemed infectious, the Queen of Denmark most assiduously attended him both day and night. The King and Queen, attended by their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Brunswick, were pleased to honour the incorporated Society of Artists of Great Britain with their presence at the Great Room,...
