Certainly, this is the greatest work by any author. It can be written in easy words and phrases rather than confusing. I am just happy to let you know that this is actually the greatest ebook we have studied inside my individual daily life and may be the greatest ebook for at any time.

Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1905 Excerpt: . and Mrs. P, the one so helpless that he cannot take a step without assistance, the other bent with rheumatism and trembling with feebleness, will surely not have what could be called a meal on Thanksgiving unless some friend provides it. Mrs. Y had twelve cents in her pocket, and lived on black coffee, very weak stuff, for three days, fearing that the insurance man might call and want ten cents due for the week previous. She does odd sewing and mending and gets thirty-five cents for knitting a pair of woollen stockings--long ones, too--and as she is old and her eyes are dim, and the sun cannot strike her window in the rear house because of the gray walls across the narrow yard, it takes a long time to knit these. Mrs. F s daughter earns $6 per week; the rent is $9 per month. Mother makes aprons, gets thirty-five cents for one dozen, furnishing her own thread. These are maid s aprons and have long strings, embroideries over the shoulders, and a great deal of stitching. Unless someone helps, do you think these can have a good Thanksgiving? The friends of our work who glance over the last page of the City Mission Monthly and scan the names of missionaries and nurses there enrolled, have noticed that the name which stood at the top, Mrs. Von Morstein s, was taken off months ago, and the name of Mrs. Wisner has since then been...
