Mirosa, United Kingdom, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .A Land Apart - Betrayal The story is set in Northumberland, and begins in 1305. Sir Walter Radulf, a knight of the realm resides with his wife Agnes and two sons, Walter (Walt), the eldest, and William, at his manor in Syhale. He also owns land at Bytildsen in the North West, closer to the border with Scotland. Due to the proximity of the Bytildsen land to the border and the lack of suitably defensible accommodation, he chooses to remain at Syhale, where his manor is not fortified, but is a greater distance from the border, offering escape to the security of Tynemouth castle, or Newcastle when threatened by serious invasion. Small incursions by invading plunderers or border reivers, he can fight off using his own troop of militia. Sir Walter s long term aim is to build a fortified tower house on his more extensive Bytildsen estate. For this purpose he requires sufficient funds to finance the build, plus the permission of the local overlord or the king to erect a fortified and crenelated dwelling. Sir Walter s father was granted these lands by Edward 1st when the young prince learned of his accession, and they were together on crusade in the holy land. Sir Walter knows he can not go directly to the king without just cause or sponsorship, so he will have to make his request through the overlord of his Bytildsen estate. In the meantime they have to contend with frequent border reiving and occasional plundering raids into Northumberland by Scottish militia. Sir Walter is a self confessed freebooter, when not managing his estates, he hires his services to local lords, using his crown...
